But this is not all that is significant in the situation as developed out of Mr. TILDEN'S declination. There are numbers of Independents like Mr. Curris who have been aptly styled pessimists. While refusing to support the Republican ticket, they cannot refrain from abusing the Democratic party. The officials now think that it was the intention to poison the patients, from the way in which the poison was discovered on the grounds. It was thrown about in every directions. bout in every direction and was put on such articles as the patients who are allowed the and eat. To prevent any such calamity most of the patients have been ordered to their wards, and no visitors are allowed in the inclosure until they have registered their names in a book at the main entrance. They are then given a pass, which allows them the lib-erty of the grounds, which they are compelled to present to the gate-keeper on leaving. This morning Dr. Clopton was the first person to discover a dead dog lying immediately in front of his residence, which is in rear of the main building.
The articles containing poison have all been collected, and the stomachs of two dogs are now being analyzed by all of the doctors. One of the doctors was disposed to think that two kinds of poison were used, but all of the dogs that they have seen die had the apthe press, indicates that they have stood unseathed the crucial test to which his declination subjected them.

HAMPDEN SIDNEY COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises-Addresses by Dr. Curry and Others-Degrees Conferred. [Reported for the Dispatch.] HAMPDEN SIDNEY, June 12, 1884.

The one-hundred-and-eighth commence nent of this venerable and time-honored institution began on Sunday morning. June 8th, with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Richard McIlwaine, D. D., president of the college. His text was taken from II. Kings, chapter ii., verse 2,—"Be strong, therefore, and show thyself a man." The sermon was exceedingly well-timed. nd was plethoric with suggestive thoughts for the practical guidance of the men just entering upon the threshold of life. It was nowhere more favorably received than by those for whom it was spe-cially intended—the graduates of the ses-On Sunday evening we had the pleasure of hearing another excellent sermon, which was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Finley, of Romney, W. Va. His text was Isaiah ix., 6,—"And His name shall be called wonderful."

On Tuesday night was the annual celebration of the Union Literary Society, the fortunate recipients of the medals being Mr. R. V. Lancaster, of Cumberland, Va., and Mr. Joseph Rennie, of Richmond, Va. To the former was awarded the orator's medal of the senior class, and to the latter the debater's medal of the junior class.

One of the crowning features of the com-mencement was the address before the litemencement was the address before the literary societies, at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, by the Rev. J. L. M. Curry, D. D., LL. D., of Richmond, Va. This gentleman, so well known in Richmond and throughout the State, created the most favorable impression. His address was listened to with sing-school to with the state of the most marked attention and elicited the greatest approval. The subject, though not formally announced, was, in substance, The formally announced, was, in substance, The Potency of Ideas, or The Supremacy of Mind Over Matter. He began by a very graceful and fitting tribute to the memory of the deservedly honored founders of Hampdensidney, giving a brief outline of the circumstances connected with the founding of this institution, and laying special stress upon the guiding principles that actuated the founders—namely, the love of liberty, especially the liberty won by the American Revolution, and the love of religion, and revolution and revolution and revolution and revolution and revolution and the revolution of the circumstant and streets and the revolution and the revolution of the circumstant and streets and streets. The revolution of the revolution and streets and the revolution of the revolution and streets and revolution and streets. The rest of the revolution of the revolution and streets and revolution The Philadelphia Press speaks of the few Republican journals and individuals that are loud in their expressions of disaffection with the Chicago nomination. If the Press calls the number of Republican papers and the number of people that are kicking "the few," we would like to know what its idea of "the many" is.

The parties recently fined in the Hustings Court for betting at base-ball have taken the steps preliminary to an appeal, and have determined (so say the lawyers) to go through with the business. In the case of one who had put nine cents as a mere joke a nolle prosequi was entered.

Revolution, and the love of religion, and most noted century in the world's history would encounter. His style was extremely graceful and forcible and his delivery exceptionally fine, his enunciation being markedly distinct. The Philanthropic Literary Society gave its annual celebration at 8 o'clock P. M., which was well attended notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. The re-cipients of the Orator's Medal of the Senior Class was Mr. A. C. Finley, of Romney, W. Va., and of the Sophomore Debater's Medal, Mr. T. S. Henry, of Charlotte, Va.

COMMENCEMENT-DAY. To-day (Thursday), commencement-day proper, one of the largest audiences that ever graced a commencement occasion here was present to show appreciation of the efforts on the part of the graduates to contribute to public enjoyment. The interim between the speeches was well filled up by excellent music from the Norfolk Marine Band, which contributed on this occasion as well as all throughout commencement to the pleasure of those attending.

After the opening prayer by Rev. Dr. Hawes, of Farmville, Va., the following degrees were announced: D. D.-Rev. James Murray, Greenville, Augusta county, Va.; Rev. Thomas Drew, Richmond. Va.; Rev. William Dinwiddie, Alexandria, Va.; Rev. Peyton Harrison, Baltimore, Md. LL. D.—Mr. Roger A. Pryor,

New York. The academic degree of A. M. was conferred upon Professor John J. Atkinson, of Texas University, and the honorary degree of A. M. upon Dr. W. G. Eggleston, gree of A. M. upon Dr. W. G. Eggleston, of Philadelphia—both former students of Hampden Sidney College. The following gentlemen graduated with the title of A. B.: W. H. Boecek, Hampden Sidney, Va.; W. O. Little, Richmond, Va.; B. H. Robertson, Farmville, Va.; R. V. Lancaster, Cumberland, Va.; A. L. Bondurant, Buckingham, Va.; P. C. Clark, Abingdon, Va.; A. C. Finley, Bonney, W.

ingdon, Va.; A. C. Finley, Romney, W. Va.; J. R. Graham, Jr., Winchester, Va.; C. R. Stribling, Martinsburg, W. Va.
The title of Bachelor of Literature, awarded for the first time in the history of the institution, was conferred upon Mr. W. H. Bocock, of Hampden Sidney, Va. Mr. W. H. Bocock and Mr. W. O. Little were the recipientes of the first bonor, the former spectively. Mr. R. V. Lancaster delivered the philosophical oration on the subject;
"I canna but Believe that Dowgs has Sowls." Speeches were also delivered by other members of the graduating class,
The speaking of the graduates was unusually good and called forth much favorable comment. The sudjecte was appreciative the flow of soul expected at the reception given by the Board of Trustees to the members of the senir class. This is quite a new feature of the commencement, and the success with which the first experiment met warrants its continuance in the future.

Apart from the regular commencem day exercises and the festivities of the night, it may be mentioned that Hampden Sidney, under her present management, bids fair to enlarge her sphere of usefulness and to prosper more and more year y year.

PETERSBURG AND VICINITY. Reported Check to the Colored Voters' Move-

The movement among the colored voters of this city, inaugurated several nights ago, to secure the nomination of a colored man for Congress in this district will, it is thought to be several to be se thought, come to naught. It is known that Colonel Brady, the collector of internal Colonel Brady, the collector of internal revenue, is an avowed candidate for the momination, and it is furthermore believed that he is strongly backed by General Mahone in his aspirations. The negroes have a large majority of the Republican vote in the district, and if they were independent enough to assert their strength Colonel Brady would stand no chance of success. It is known too, that several colored men in the district, one of whom resides in this city, have aspirations for congressional honors. But they have whom resides in this city, have aspirations for congressional honors. But they have all heretofore so completely submitted to the ruling spirit of the Coalition party that they will hardly take any independent stand at this late day.

Whether or not Congressman Hooper, whose relations to Mahone and Brady are reported not to be of the most cordial character, will quietly submit to the little arrangement for Colonel Brady's nomination, remains to be seen. But one fact is clear, and that is that while the negroes are counted for their votes, when the time for division of the offices arrives they are assigned to the rear.

A Plattened Bullet to His Skull.

Drs. Schwab and Tripp completed the post mortem in the cases of the Kennedys, murdered on the night of June 9th by Pat. McDermott at Court and Central avenue. The report was quite lengthy, and shows that death was the result of pistol-wounds. A remarkable discovery was made in the case of Charles Kennedy. The doctors were removing the skull, and on lifting the scalp found deeply embedded in the skull a flattened builet. From appearances the ball had probably been in the man's head for years. It was blackened and thickly costed with particles of animal matter, and coated with particles of animal matter, and the doctors had to cut it with a knife before they discovered what it was. It is thought that the man received the shot during the war.
